

HOW DO YOU CATER
FOR EVERYONE?

MILK AND ONE SUGAR PLEASE

As individuals it stands to reason that we all want something slightly different and when it comes to catering for your colleagues, getting it right can be a real challenge!

Satisfying the individual choices made by you and your colleagues on catering products keep our sourcing team really busy! We have found no other product group that causes so much debate, even in our own office. It is no longer about one type of tea and coffee that will satisfy everyone, people want choice so that's what we provide.

Catering for the office is also more involved than just hot drinks, if it has a relationship to food or drink, however vague, we probably already supply it to at least one customer. The diversity of what we supply, ranges from dishwashers to biodegradable cutlery for those who don't want to wash up.

The environment plays a really important part in the service that we provide to you, incorporating catering products into your regular office supplies shopping reduces your carbon footprint, one delivery instead of two or possibly even more.

We are frequently told by existing customers the main reason they use us for all their catering supplies is to save time. No one needs to leave the office to go shopping, no one needs to manage the petty cash and most important of all, no one forgets to buy the biscuits!

WHY ALMO'S CATERING TASTES BETTER

The same care and attention that we take in sourcing your office supplies goes into buying the right catering products for you.

Before we start supplying your catering requirements we like to uncover exactly what you need. We have included a really simple form on the back of this document that is designed to help us gain a snapshot of your needs. Once we have this initial information we can work with you to formulate your final shopping list, encompassing everyone's choices.

We have assembled some really varied products and services over the years to satisfy your needs, we could not have achieved this without the help of our supply partners. All our partners were chosen because like us they are specialists in their marketplace and provide exceptional products.

The relationships we have with our partners are what make our catering solution taste better than the any other. We have listed some of the brands we work with below and why we love recommending their products and services form part of our service to you.

SERVICE PARTNERS

Benugo™

Choosing to partner with Benugo was an easy decision to make because they believe in providing real choice for their customers. Their approach is simple...to produce great-tasting food at honest prices using fresh, locally sourced ingredients.

A really exciting brand that has achieved huge success since brothers Ben and Hugo started Benugo in 1998. Their mission to offer much more than the bland mass produced sandwiches offered everywhere else has really taken off and they have a built a loyal following across London.

We work with Benugo to deliver you the freshest sandwich, fruit and cake platters direct to your office. We can fulfil all your requirements, whether you need a daily, weekly or monthly service.

Teapigs

Our commitment to support individual choice, quality and finding inspirational products led us to Teapigs.

Teapigs was started by Nick and Louise in 2006, they met whilst working for a really big tea company and soon discovered a whole world of teas out there that are just not getting the attention they deserve, so they decided to do something about it and started Teapigs.

We sell the whole range of Teapigs teas, currently over 20, it is up to you what you choose but our favourites are the Darjeeling Earl Grey, Super Fruit and the amazing Peppermint, it gives you a real lift in the afternoon!

A key difference for Teapigs is the bags, they use something called a 'tea temple' a little silk-like pyramid that allows the leaves to have space to properly flavour your drink. Once you have tried the tea you will find it hard to go back to your old brew.

Lavazza – Italy's favourite coffee

We could not ignore the coffee drinkers! So we have secured a fantastic partnership with a coffee brand that we are sure you will have heard...Lavazza – as we have said it is Italy's favourite coffee and is fast becoming one of London's too.

Lavazza has been making the finest roast and ground coffee since 1895. Still a family business but now selling coffee all over the world Lavazza has always led the way in technology and innovation to produce great coffee at a time and a place to suit you. With our help this means great coffee is now available in your office!

If people in your office are spending over £2 a cup for their favourite coffee, they will be delighted with the Lavazza coffee machines we can supply. The latest unit boasts the ability to make authentic Italian espresso and perfect filter coffee, cup by cup. Prices are as low as 40p a cup.
